

Project Crossovers

Wednesday 27th February, week 6

Let me tell you a bit about Shane, you haven't heard about him yet and you really should. Only 20, he's worked his way through PMZ, starting as a participant in a City College group. Shane will tell you that when he first came to PMZ his life "was going nowhere" but that when he came along he realised that he really enjoyed playing guitar and that it was something he could get into.

Instead of allowing his life to go off the tracks, Shane decided to volunteer at PMZ, and then when the opportunity came up to apply for an apprenticeship, he jumped at the chance and was successful. So now, three years later, Shane's our youngest music leader (with the coolest hair-style) and he's just brilliant at running Jam Band alongside Teri. Actually I think all the girls secretly fancy him, but I believe that he's already spoken for ladies, sorry! Shane rocks on guitar and vocals, so look out for him at an open-mic night somewhere in the city, and read more here! ... and a little bit more about his music leadership and our other music leaders here! Lovely bunch of people we've got here, PMZ inspires people, there's no doubt about it.
