Tuesday 9th July ... Story telling and love!

Bill misses his wife, he misses his home, he misses being able to use his hands, he misses being able to talk properly and he misses his independence. One day a week Bill sings with us and he forgets what he misses and he's happy.

I've come away inspired after attending three days at the Institute of Fundraising's National Convention. Does that sound dull? Well, it wasn't! It was incredibly inspiring!

Three days of amazing speakers! I learned masses and have a whole book-full of notes that I frantically wrote down, but three of my favourite things were definitely:

Fundraisers are lovely, amazing, caring people! They care, passionately about the causes they're working for. Without them the charities that employ them couldn't make a difference to people's lives.

Fundraising is about love!

I must be brave and take risks!

Want to know a secret?

What do you want to know about? If there's something you'd like me to tell you about at PMZ, please get in touch:
